IN SHORT

I'm an iOS engineer who ships — from React Native product work at Zapp and Train Effective to architecting and building Xcode Wizard and TrakStar solo. I'm used to owning large, complex work end to end: native modules, ad orchestration across impressions and engagements, A/B testing, billing, App Store Connect, store release, and the Apple ecosystem details that make delivery work — certificates, provisioning profiles, and app signing. Open to senior or staff engineer roles, whether that means driving critical work individually, leading teams and technical direction, or owning delivery end to end.
